ORIENT ANNOUNCES NEW CONTRACT AWARD

ORH subsidiary Orient (Tianjin) Corrosion Engineering Ltd (Orient) today announced the signing of its third significant contract in China, and the first for works outside the Tianjin Port area.

The Cao Fei Dian Coal Terminal in Heibei province is undergoing a $A500 million expansion and as foreshadowed in the company's announcement of 27th June 2006, Orient is well positioned to take advantage of this booming development area.

Orient has secured a $A1.4 million order for the provision of specialist services at the proposed new coal terminal wharf facility, taking work in hand to over $A 6.0 million.

"The Board is delighted with this new contract and proud of the efforts of our staff and associates in Cao Fei Dian", said ORH Chairman Michael Palmer.

"Our planned expansion of this business in China is proceeding well and we are confident that our ongoing development work will lead to significant new contract sales in the area". said Mr Palmer

The Board of ORH is actively seeking acquisition targets in similar and related engineering fields.

ORH controls as 80% interest in the joint venture through its subsidiary Orient Corrosion Engineering Pty Ltd.
