INTEREST IN GOLD PROJECT SOLD FOR UP TO US$700,000 IN SHARES & CASH

Equus Mining Limited (ASX: EQE) announces the disposal of its interest in the Mansounia Gold Project in the Republic of Guinea, West Africa.

Equus was the licence holder of the Mansounia Project with Burey Gold Limited (ASX: BYR) having the sole right to explore the Mansounia property in eastern Guinea and earn a 70% interest in the project. Equus has sold the property licence to a private company registered in Ghana.

Consideration payable to Equus for the property licence sale comprises:

- A cash amount of US$42,857; and
- Issue of shares in a US over the counter traded company, Blox Inc where the number of Blox-Inc shares shall be calculated by dividing US$328,555 by the lower of $0.20 or the volume weighted average share price of Blox-Inc shares traded on a securities exchange platform over a 20-day period preceding the issue date.

Completion of the sale is expected in or around mid-June 2014.

Additionally, Equus will receive further shares in Blox Inc upon commencement of commercial gold production from the Mansounia property. The number of additional Blox-Inc shares shall be calculated by dividing US$328,555 by the volume weighted average share price of Blox-Inc shares traded on a securities exchange platform over a 20 day period preceding the issue date.

More on Blox Inc. - On 24 June 2013, Nava Resources Inc – now Blox Inc. (OTCQB: BLXX) – announced a number of acquisitions as being the first step in that company's plan to change into a mining and mining services company, while also introducing the concept of green mining to its operations by way of offsetting carbon emissions through the expansion of its acquired renewable energy business.
