 - Before applying for New Shares applicants should consider whether the New Shares are a suitable investment. Applicants should be aware that there are risks associated with an investment in the New Shares and Elders generally, many of which are outside the control of Elders and its Directors.
 - The summary of risks below is not exhaustive. Applicants should read this section together with all publicly available information (including this Offer) and consult their stockbroker, accountant, solicitor or other professional adviser before deciding whether to apply for New Shares in Elders.
- Eight Point Plan
 - Failure to successfully execute the eight point plan and other operational initiatives may have a material adverse effect on Elders' future financial performance and position, including Elders' ability to achieve its aspirational performance targets.
- AWH sale
 - As disclosed to the ASX on 5 September 2014, Elders has disposed of its 50% interest in AWH Pty Ltd for approximately $32 million. The purchase price will be paid to Elders only once all post completion steps have occurred and required approvals have been obtained. This has not occurred as at the date of this presentation. There is a risk that these steps may be delayed or may not occur. If they do not occur, Elders will not receive the sale proceeds and will thereafter continue to hold its interest in AWH.
- Risks associated with Elders' rural activities
 - Set out below are examples of risks associated with Elders' rural activities. It is not intended to be an exhaustive list. These risks are relevant to the decision to invest in New Shares as they may affect the level and volatility of the profits of Elders and therefore its capacity to pay dividends.
 - In relation to the rural activities, Elders' financial performance will be dependent on conditions in the rural economy. In turn such conditions are largely influenced by levels of demand and prices in world commodity markets and seasonal conditions.
- Adverse climatic conditions
 - Elders' business is sensitive to adverse climatic conditions or other natural events (for example flood, drought, pestilence and fire). Adverse climatic conditions and other natural events may reduce the output of relevant agricultural products and affect the operation of Elders' business.
- Movements in commodity prices and other factors
 - Movements in international commodity prices, exchange rates and a decrease in the volume of Australian rural production are beyond Elders' control and could adversely affect margins in the future.
- Health and safety of agricultural products
 - Biosecurity threats to the health and safety of agricultural products and livestock (for example BSE in respect of cattle, other disease, pestilence and forces of nature) may adversely affect Elders' business.

Key Risk Factors

- Livestock export business
 - Elders is engaged in the livestock export business. This business may be adversely affected by the imposition of tariffs or free trade agreements, export bans or embargos which may reduce Elders' competitiveness, or ability to operate, in international markets.
- Government subsidies
 - Subsidies given to foreign rural producers may adversely affect the competitive position of Australian rural outputs.
- Rural loans
 - Any of the above factors may also affect the ability of borrowers to service rural loans. This may affect the value of securities held against rural loans with a consequent effect on the carrying value of the investment in Elders and the return from this investment.
- Risks associated with Elders' business
- Competition
 - Elders faces competition in the markets in which it operates. Competition may affect the cash flow and earnings which Elders will realise from its operations.
- Finance facilities
 - ANZ, Rabobank and NAB (the Financiers) have issued to Elders a credit approved commitment letter and term sheet under which the Financiers commit to provide loans and other banking facilities to Elders for the purposes of refinancing or retiring its existing senior debt financing arrangements and to finance the general corporate and working capital requirements of the Elders Group.
 - The availability of funding to Elders under its new banking facilities is subject to the satisfaction of a number of conditions precedent, including but not limited to the receipt of funds by Elders from the capital raising and the entry into of formal documentation reflecting the commitment letter and term sheet. If for any reason those conditions precedent are not satisfied (to the extent they are not waived by the Financiers), Elders will not be entitled to draw down under the facilities. Elders is not as at the date of this presentation aware of any reasons why the conditions precedent will not be satisfied in the ordinary course to enable first drawdown to occur as and when required.
 - Elders is subject to various covenants in relation to its existing and new banking facilities. Factors such as a decline in Elders' operational and financial performance could lead to a breach of its debt covenants. If this occurs, Elders may be required to repay its loans and other amounts outstanding under its banking facilities immediately.
 - Elders' ability to service its debt will depend on its future performance and cash flows, which will be affected by many factors some of which are beyond Elders' control. Any inability of Elders to service its existing debt or future debt may have a material adverse effect on Elders.
- Loss of key personnel
 - Elders' profitability may be restricted by the loss of key management personnel who have particular expertise in the market in which Elders' operates.

Key Risk Factors

- Litigation and disputes
 - Legal and other disputes may arise from time to time in the ordinary course of operations. Any such dispute may impact on earnings.
 - On 23 July 2014 Elders made an ASX announcement regarding an award against Elders of $2.7m (at then prevailing exchange rates) plus interest and costs in relation to a historical livestock trading contract. Applicants should consider the details set out in that announcement. The claimant is taking steps to enforce that award and Elders continues to vigorously pursue its counter claim against the claimant. As at the date of this presentation the result of the counterclaim arbitration remains unknown.
- Risks associated with the Elders' hybrid securities
- Hybrid dividend priority
 - Under the terms of Elders' hybrid securities (Hybrids) as detailed in the Hybrid replacement prospectus dated 28 February 2006 (Hybrid Prospectus), the holders of Hybrids (Holders) are to be paid distributions in arrears on 31 March, 30 June, 30 September and 31 December each year (Distributions). Although the Distributions are not cumulative, if a Distribution is not paid, Elders may not pay a dividend or other distribution to its Shareholders.
- This restriction may only be removed in certain circumstances including:
 - by special resolution of Holders;
 - by Elders paying Holders an optional distribution of not less than the unpaid Distributions during the previous 12 months; or
 - by Elders subsequently paying Distributions in full to Holders for a period of 12 months.
 - Elders has not paid Distributions in the previous 12 months. Therefore the restriction on the payment of dividends or distributions to its Shareholders may only be removed in accordance with the circumstances outlined in the paragraph above.
 - If calculated at 28 August 2014, the total amount of Distributions over a 12 month period that Elders would be required to pay before it may pay a dividend or other distribution to Shareholders is $8.8 million. This assumes a fully franked Distribution and is based on interest rate of 8.4% per annum.
 - The Hybrid terms of issue provide for a periodic remarketing process which could result in, amongst other outcomes, a step up of 2.5% margin in addition to the margin prevailing at the time of the remarketing. The next scheduled remarketing occurs in June 2016.
- Hybrid preference on winding up
 - As detailed in the Hybrid Prospectus, on the winding up of Elders each Holder will be issued a Preference Share and has a right to the Debt Portion. This or the notional entitlement to Preference Shares entitles each Holder, on the winding up of Elders to be paid after all creditors but in priority to Ordinary Shareholders an amount equal to $100 plus any unpaid Distributions in the last 12 months.

Key Risk Factors

- Risks associated with economic factors and regulatory changes
 - Set out below are risks associated with investment in Elders and the New Shares. These risks may impact the financial performance and prospects of Elders and the demand for Elders securities.
- Changes in economical and financial market conditions
 - Movements in Australian and international stock markets, changes in interest rates, inflation and inflationary expectations and overall economic and political conditions may affect the demand for and price of the New Shares. Investors should be aware that there are risks associated with any investment in securities and that the prices of securities can go down as well as up.
- Changes in laws and government policy
 - Changes in government legislation and policy in those jurisdictions in which Elders operates, in particular changes to taxation laws, may affect the future earnings, asset values and the relative attractiveness of investing in Elders securities. In particular government and public focus on environmental sustainability could require Elders to incur material costs or otherwise adversely affect Elders' financial performance.
- Changes in accounting standards
 - Changes in accounting or financial reporting standards may adversely impact the financial performance reported by Elders.
- ASX market volatility
 - The ASX price of Elders' securities may fluctuate due to various factors including the Australian and international investment markets, international economic conditions, global geo political events and hostilities, investor perceptions and other factors that may affect Elders' financial performance and position.
- Other external factors
 - Other external factors which may impact on Elders' performance include changes or disruptions to political, regulatory, legal or economic conditions or to the national or international financial markets including as a result of terrorist attacks or war or insurrection.
- Risks associated with the Offer
- Market risk
 - The market price of Elders' shares may fluctuate due to various factors including those outlined above. The above factors are not an exhaustive list of the risks faced by Elders or by investors in Elders. The above factors, and others not specifically referred to, may in the future materially affect the financial performance of Elders and the value of the New Shares. The market price of the New Shares could trade on ASX at a price below their issue price.
 - No assurances can be given that the New Shares will trade at or above the offer price under the Offer. None of Elders, its Board or any other person guarantees the market performance of the New Shares.

Key Risk Factors

- Dilution risk
 - If you do not take up all or part of the New Shares offered to you under the Offer, then your percentage shareholding in Elders will be diluted.
- Dividends
 - The payment of dividends by Elders is determined by the Elders Board from time to time at its discretion, dependent on the profitability, gearing position and cash flow of Elders' business. As outlined above, there is a restriction on the payment of dividends due to distributions not having been paid in respect of outstanding Hybrids. Any future dividends will be determined by the Elders' Board having regard to its operating results and financial position at the relevant time. There is no guarantee that any dividend will be paid by Elders or, if paid, that it will be paid at previous levels.
- Taxation implications
 - Any future changes in taxation laws, including changes in the interpretation or application of those laws by the court or taxation authorities may affect the taxation treatment of an investment in Elders' securities, or the holdings and disposal of those securities. As tax considerations may differ between security holders, prospective investors are encouraged to seek professional tax advice in connection with any investment in the New Shares
 - The ability of Elders to deduct prior year tax losses is restricted in particular by continuity of ownership (COT) and same business (SBT) tests. In general a listed company is entitled to a deduction for a prior year tax loss if total shareholdings with less than a 10% shareholding remain above 50% during the start of a loss year, end of an income year and when a corporate change occurs. However, if the required continuity of ownership is not maintained, the company may still be entitled to the deduction if it satisfies a same business test, determined by reference to the business the company carries on immediately before the change of ownership causing failure of the COT. No assurance can be given that COT will be satisfied in respect of Elders and, if not, that SBT will be satisfied. No assurance can therefore be given that Elders carry forward tax losses will be available for deductions.

Basis of Preparation

The Pro-forma Balance Sheet has been prepared for illustrative purposes only, to show the impact on the actual historical balance sheet as at 31 March 2014 of the following events as though they had occurred on 31 March 2014:

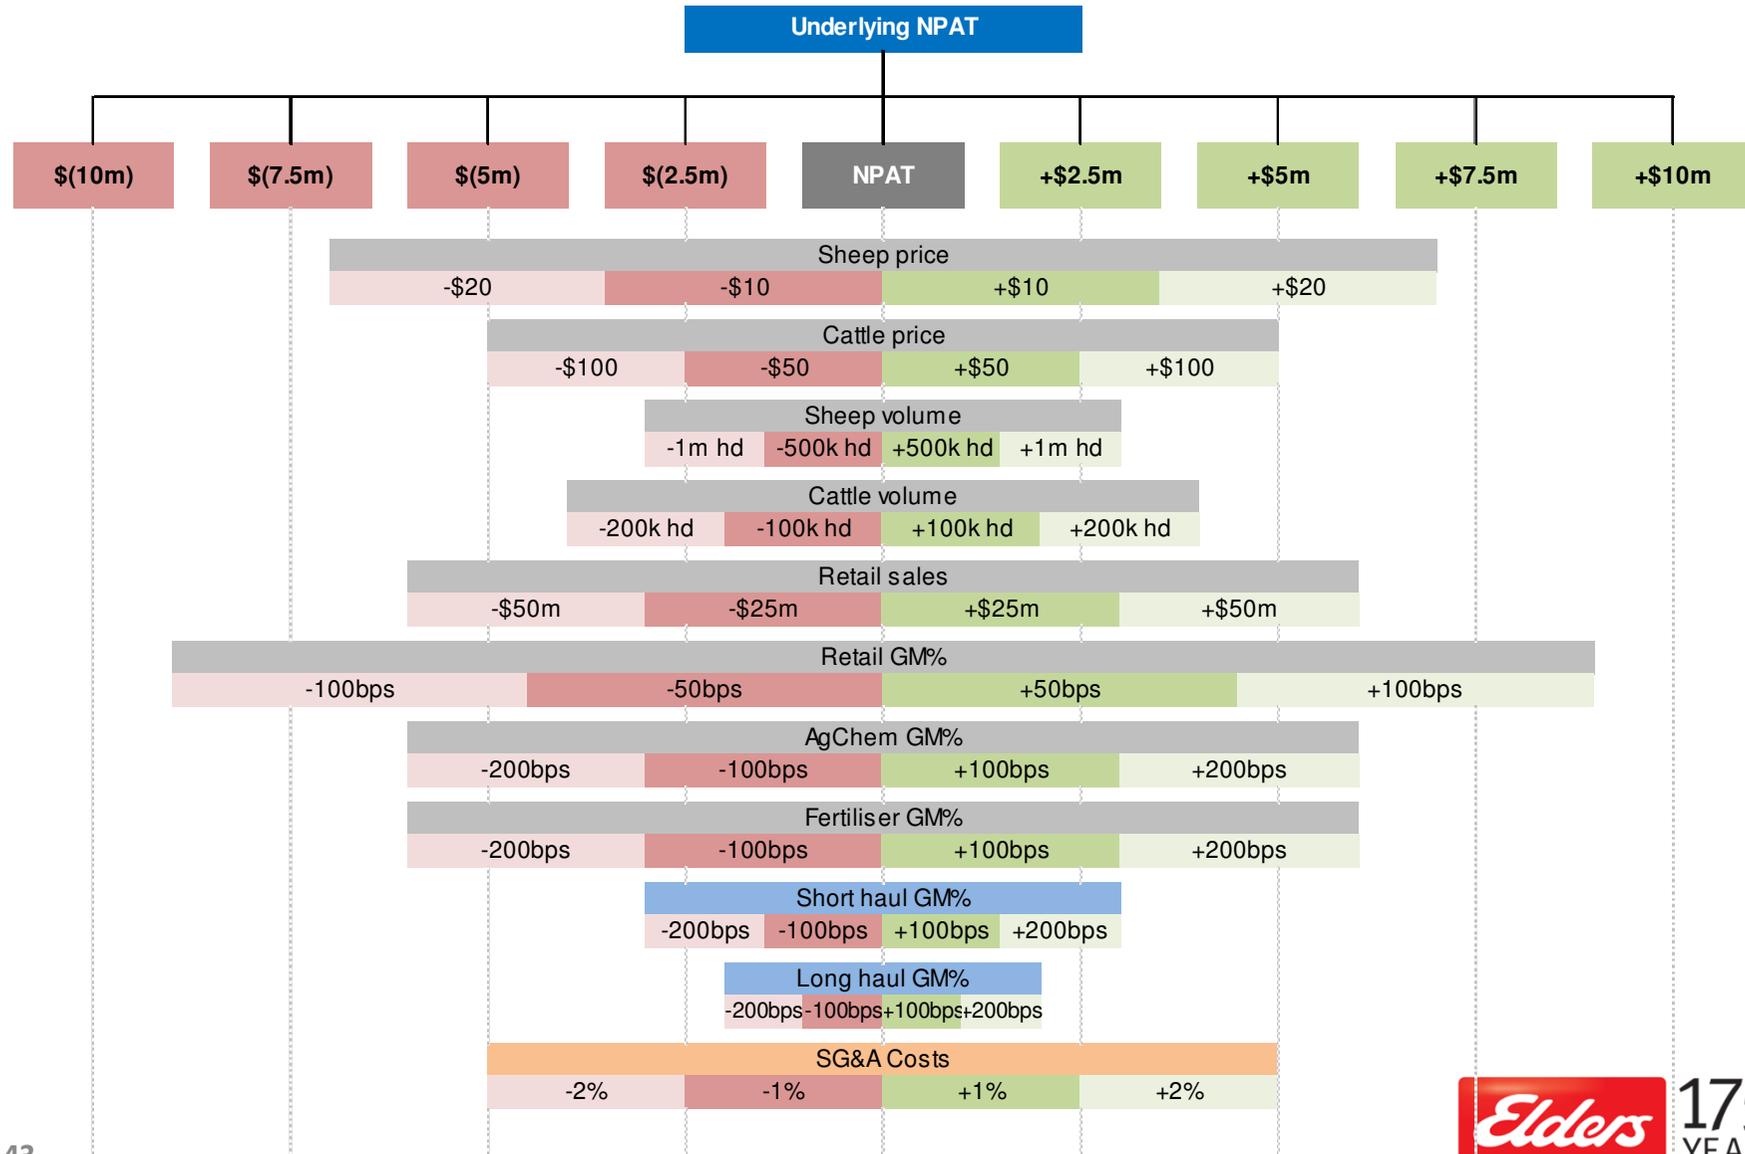

- Asset divestments for residual 10% interest in Elders Insurance, Charlton Feedlot, JSB (New Zealand wool trading business) and Elders Rural Holding (New Zealand network) have been completed;
- Gross underwritten proceeds from the Capital Raising of $57 million has been successful, less expected costs of $3 million; and
- Refinancing of the Company's debt facilities has been successfully completed.

At the date of this Presentation, Elders is undertaking a sale process for its investment in AWH (see slide 17). As this process is not completed, it has not been effected in the Pro-forma Balance Sheet.

The Pro-forma Balance Sheet is presented in abbreviated form and does not contain disclosures that are usually provided in a financial report prepared in accordance with the Corporations Act.

The Pro-forma Balance Sheet is not represented as being indicative of Elders' view of its future financial position. The Pro-forma Balance Sheet is presented based on the specific pro-forma adjustments and transactions, and does not take account of the financial performance, cash flows or other movements in balance sheet items of Elders for the period 31 March 2014 to the date of this Presentation.
