Homeground Villages Signs Three-Year Agreement with Enverro

Contract includes both Mobilisation and the newly launched Crew and Roster products

3 February 2015

Enverro (ASX: ERR), a leading provider of workforce management software for the energy, resources and construction sectors, is pleased to announce that Homeground Villages, part of the Decmil Group (ASX:DCG) has signed a three-year software licensing agreement for both Mobilisation and Crew & Roster products. The company will utilise the Enverro platform to facilitate the delivery of outsourced mobilisation services for its customer base. Homeground Villages is a provider of workforce accommodation services to the resources and infrastructure industries.

Enverro CEO Leigh Kelson said: "The Enverro platform offers Homeground Villages the ability to take their customer's mobilisation practices into the cloud; automating the process, reducing the inefficiencies commonly found with manual procedures and providing real-time mobile data regarding the status of all their contractors at any given time."

"The Enverro workforce management platform will enable Homeground to offer an extended portfolio of complimentary services. Our accommodation clients will be provided an ability to improve their reconciliation processes and lower their costs by taking advantage of our new Mobilisation and Crew & Roster services," stated Pamela Rosenbaum, General Manager, Homeground Villages.

Kelson added, "We are excited by the opportunity to work with a recognised leader in workforce accommodation. This agreement not only represents a significant customer for Enverro but an opportunity to work with Homeground Villages as it expands its services to its customer base."
