FY2016 – H1 Results Highlights

Revenue for the consolidated entity continues to grow at double digit pace (+11.1%), inline with our forecast.

The company has on-boarded 13 new vendors since the beginning of 2015, and these vendors have contributed $24.4m in revenue growth in H1 yoy. Organic (existing) vendors continue to grow at 6.7% yoy.

At a sector level, Hardware continues to grow at +12.3% yoy, Software at +6.5%, and Services at +26.1%.

Operating costs have been managed tightly, with costs growing (+3.7%) at only 1/3 the revenue growth rate. Salary related costs have fallen to 4.3% of revenue versus 4.6% in the corresponding period last year.

The company has delivered an underlying net profit 11.9% better than H1 2015, and slightly ahead of it's forecast.

Our balance sheet position has strengthened since Dec 2015, with working capital falling seasonally over H1 and allowing the company to increase cash levels, reduce debt, and fund the purchase of the adjoining property to allow for expansion.

Source and Application of Cash

- The company's cash flow benefited from the improved working capital position since the last reporting period, generating $29.7m in cash.
- Working capital days improved by 12.6 days over the previous period. The improvement in working capital days is a normal part of the cyclical nature of the company's working capital requirements and does not reflect a permanent reduction in working capital needs.

2016 Guidance

- Forecasted revenue growth of over 10% was achieved for the half year and we expect this growth rate to be sustained in H2.
- As per our previous guidance and expectations gross margins have contracted. Gross margin results achieved in H1 are in line with margin expectation for H2.
- The company will continue to seek operational leverage when executing it's revenue growth objectives.
- Based on profit results to date previous profit guidance of $35m in pre-tax operating profit is expected to be achieved.
- Assuming an average tax rate of 30% NPAT is forecasted at $24.5m, equating to 11% growth on the underlying result achieved in 2015.
