DRILLING TO COMMENCE AT FORRESTANIA LITHIUM PROJECT

Marindi Metals Ltd (ASX:MZN) is pleased to provide the following update on exploration and corporate developments at the Forrestania Lithium project.

Exploration drilling to commence at Gem Pegmatite Mining Lease following receipt of approvals

Marindi's Program of Work (PoW) has been approved by the Department of Mines and Petroleum and earth works to facilitate the planned RC drilling program will commence today. Drilling is planned to commence on Friday the 9th of December and is expected to take approximately two weeks to complete.

The initial phase of drilling will be to test the pegmatite zone over a strike length of approximate 1.5 kilometres to determine dip, strike and thickness. Previous historic drilling and more recent field mapping and soil sampling by Marindi has identified specialised Lithium, Caesium, Tantalum (LCT) pegmatites at several localities within the Gem Pegmatite mining lease.

Corporate

The Company also confirms that it submitted its statement of claim in respect of its Supreme Court action concerning the lithium rights to the tenements owned by Kidman Resources Limited (ASX: KDR) at Mt Holland in the Forrestania Region.

Marindi will continue to update the market on the progress of the action as appropriate.
