- The Company proved material positive results in its Pilot Program with Full-Service Moving companies. Preliminary results proved that Users exposed to Updater Communications purchased a full-service move from Pilot Moving Companies at a 520% higher rate than Users who were not exposed to Updater Communications. Further, Users who purchased a Full-Service Move from a Pilot Moving Company engaged with nearly twice the number of features as compared to all other Updater Users. This engagement data reaffirms that Updater's Business Products are likely to improve the overall user experience and contribute to a potential network effect.
- The Company proved material positive results in its Insurance Pilot Program. Preliminary results proved that Pre-Movers exposed to Updater Communications purchased applicable insurance products at a 93% higher rate than Pre-Movers who were not exposed to Updater Communications. These results are powerful validation that Updater can provide significant value to the relocation ecosystem, helping both Businesses and Movers by surfacing relevant, helpful, and contextual content along with features to enable more seamless transactions.
- The Company agreed to run a Pilot Program with AT&T Inc. (NYSE:T). AT&T helps millions of consumers connect with leading entertainment, business, mobile and high speed Internet services. The primary goals of the pilot are to improve the experience for relocating consumers and prove the value of Updater's platform for AT&T and other businesses in the telecommunications industry. The Company and AT&T began work on a technology integration in Q2 and the pilot will be live in Q3.

- Since winning the National Multifamily Housing Council's coveted LaunchPad award in November 2015, the Company officially surpassed 1 million multifamily units live on Updater's Real Estate Products.
- The Company launched a partnership with its fourth major van line, National Van Lines. National Van Lines was launched in 1930 and is one of the largest moving company networks in the United States. This partnership will simplify the moving headaches of the approximately 15,000 interstate families National Van Lines will move in 2017.
- The Company appointed Stephen Dove as its new Vice President of Product. Stephen started in June and joined David Greenberg, Ryan Hubbard, Raj Doshi, and Lindsey Dole on the senior management team. Stephen will oversee product development for the Mover Product, Real Estate Products, and Business Products, and scale the Company's product team.
- In addition to the Vice President of Product, the Company hired multiple new employees across all departments, including a new property management salesperson with over six years of experience in his territory, a Content Marketing Manager to amplify inbound marketing efforts, a Business Recruiter to help scale its recruiting processes, an engineering Director of Microservices, two additional Success Managers, and a People Experience Manager to manage the Company's office, people, and culture.
- In January, the Company moved into its new corporate headquarters in Union Square, New York City. The state-of-the-art office underscores Updater's ongoing commitment to recruit top talent and provide an environment that encourages collaboration and creativity.
