

MORPHIC ETHICAL EQUITIES FUND

Monthly Report
October 2019

Fund Objective

The Morphic Ethical Equities Fund Limited (the Fund) seeks to provide investors a way to grow their wealth and feel confident they do so without investing in businesses that harm the environment, people, and society.

The Fund excludes direct investments in entities involved in environmental destruction, including coal and uranium mining, oil and gas, intensive animal farming and aquaculture, tobacco and alcohol, armaments, gambling and rainforest and old growth logging.

Ethical Investing in Focus

In October each year we celebrate Ethical Investment Week. Ethical Investment Week is an opportunity for Australians to learn more about investing in line with their ethics. Morphic's Head of Research James Taylor discussed five important questions you need to ask your ethical fund manager as a simple checklist.

As an active investor and a signatory of the Principles of Responsible Investment we are committed to engage with the companies in which we invest. In October we released the Morphic Stewardship Report, the first of what will be an annual update on our stewardship activities over the preceding twelve months.

Portfolio review

The Fund fell 0.5% in October, underperforming global markets which rose 0.6% in AUD terms. Global equities rallied +2.6% in USD terms fuelled by the third Fed easing in this cycle; progress on "Phase 1" of the US-China trade deal; and a US reporting season that began stronger than consensus was expecting. In October, Japan (+4.8%) and Emerging Markets (+4.1%) led regional performance while the earnings-stable US market (+2.1%) was the worst performing major region despite strong performance from the US Tech sector.

The largest contributor to performance this month was our position in German forklift manufacturer Jungheinrich. The Company is well positioned for two key structural growth drivers. The replacement cycle driving the switch from diesel to electric forklifts remains strong, as does investment into modern warehouses and related logistics infrastructure to serve the growing e-commerce providers. Acknowledging the cyclical nature of industrial demand, we believe this is reflected in the current valuation which remains attractive.

After a strong contribution in the previous month, our position in Service Corp, the largest funeral care provider in the US, was the Fund's largest detractor. We remain confident that the Company has had a solid quarter and expect the forthcoming and subsequent results to continue to confirm the long-term appeal of what is a stable and moderately growing business.

Outlook

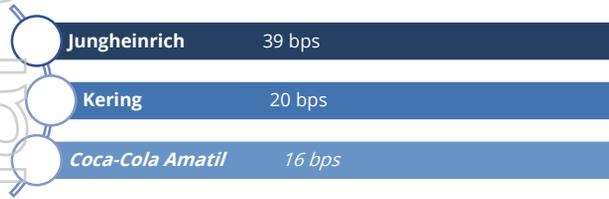

Last month we wrote that the market approached "decision time": go with the weakening trade data or look through and believe the rate cuts will be enough. For now, it appears to have been decided - look through and buy. Reflecting the binary nature of these choices, the Fund carried put options, which dragged on performance, but less than the approach of carrying a large cash weighting.

Despite markets at highs, market positioning isn't yet bullish and if this is a mid-cycle soft landing, history says markets keep rallying for some time. The Fund has exposure to interest rates and hedges in place that offers exposure to this effect, along with some FX hedging in place.
