Operating Revenue by Quarter ('000)

Active Trader Growth by Quarter

Melbourne, Australia – 6th April 2020: SelfWealth Ltd (ASX: SWF) ("SelfWealth" or "the Company"), has released its third FY20 Quarterly Cash Flow and Activities Report which shows accelerating 'active trader' growth quarter-on-quarter and growth in all key revenue-generating performance indicators.

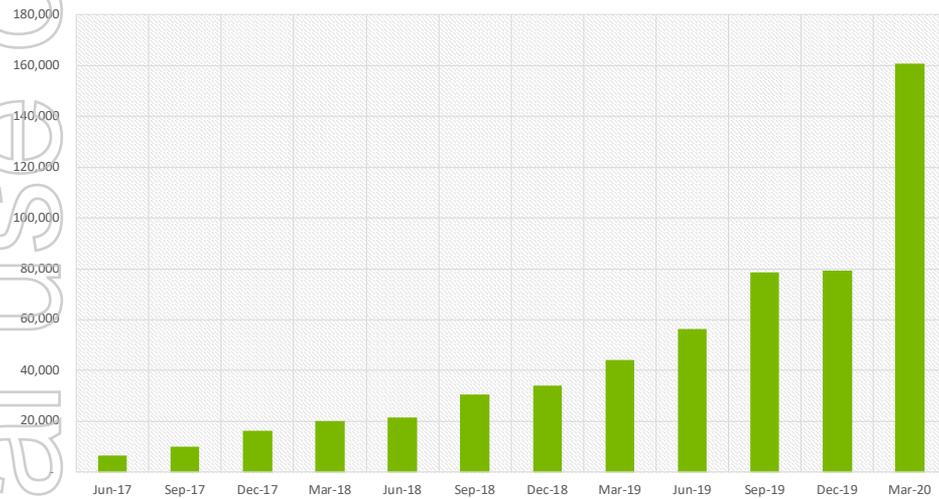

Commenting on the quarterly result, SelfWealth's Acting CEO, Mr Rob Edgley said, "The March quarter results signify a great advancement in the Company's progress. The results confirm that the marketplace for SelfWealth's retail trading platform is expanding significantly, with the Company's highly scalable and well-performing solution placing it in the ideal position to benefit from this expansion.

"SelfWealth continues to increase its market share in the online broking industry, as Australians of all ages and experience seeking to build wealth through affordable investing, join the platform. After exhibiting strong growth over the last 12 months, the rate of growth in new clients joining SelfWealth accelerated further with an additional 10,420 'active traders' joining our platform in the past three months.

"This large increase in client numbers has had the expected flow-on impact to revenue with the Company recording its first monthly operating revenue in excess of $1m in March. There is no doubt that the recent market volatility and the ultra-low interest rate environment has created significant interest in the stock market. With 32,313 active traders at the end of the quarter and new client acquisition growth showing no signs of abating, the Company is in a strong position to grow revenues further."

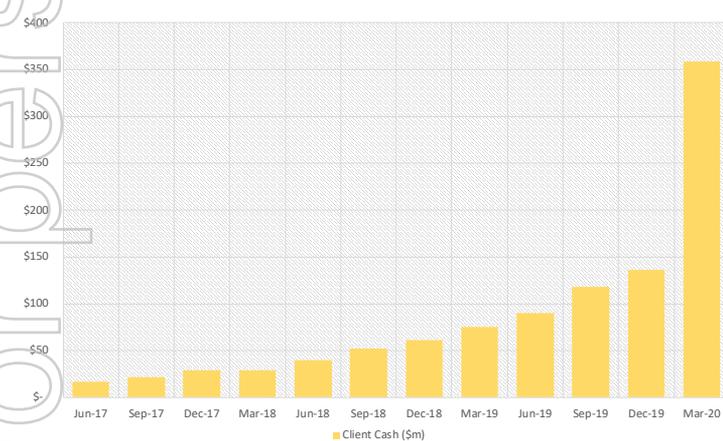

Retail Trading Platform Key Performance Indicators

Trade Growth by Quarter

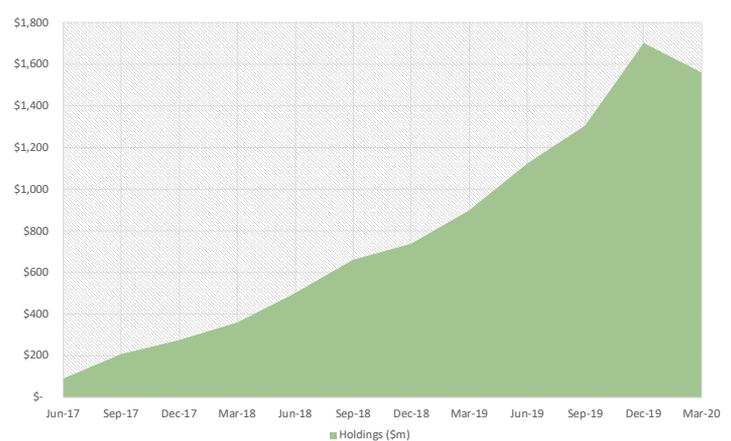

Market volatility and an influx of new 'active traders' drove a doubling of trade volumes across the March quarter.

Total Client Cash by Quarter

Total Securities Held on HIN by Quarter

The March quarter saw an increase in new investors joining the platform and strong levels of deposits from existing clients. This combined with some net selling of existing positions has resulted in a 164% quarter-on-quarter growth in 'client cash held.' The value of client owned securities on HIN has lowered inline with the market decline witnessed during the quarter.

SelfWealth SMSF Leaders ETF

The SelfWealth SMSF Leaders ETF, which is an index-based ETF, was launched at the start of November and continues to be supported by the distribution strategy, which is being rolled out as planned. For more information, please consult the Product Disclosure Statement, found at etf.selfwealth.com.au.

Product and Technology Update

Key improvements to the trading platform were implemented during the quarter, with the Company focused on improving the client on-boarding experience and adding features to facilitate the opening of multiple accounts under one login. These changes are designed to encourage existing investors to switch all portfolios across to the SelfWealth ecosystem, which will allow the Company to maximise the business it receives from individuals trading with multiple accounts.

Despite extremely volatile trading days, and unprecedented volumes, the platform has performed exceptionally well with no outages recorded. Mr Edgley had this to add, "It is very pleasing to see our technology performing so well during these volatile periods. Process automation has allowed us to onboard thousands of new clients during the quarter, including 6,221 new clients in the month of March alone."

SelfWealth Adviser Platform

The SelfWealth Adviser platform continues to gain momentum, this quarter adding 6 new AFSL groups to the Company's growing list of approved licensees. That brings the total to over 35, translating to 120 advisers registered on the platform, and access to over 1,200 advisers to further increase the SelfWealth footprint.

The economic environment has triggered a large uptick in inbound enquires from advisers, who have highlighted the efficient and low cost features of the SelfWealth Adviser Platform as important factors in servicing their clients. The sales team grew this quarter in order to support several bulk transition opportunities and the growing pipeline of licensees, advisers and other intermediaries interested in the platform.

Cash Burn

As expected, with a substantial increase in new clients, quarterly revenue grew and subsequently reduced the cash burn for the quarter to $70k, down 87% quarter-on-quarter. While there is an upfront cost in acquiring and onboarding new clients, these new clients are adding to trading volumes and cash deposits on the platform.

The current trend suggests that the financial position of the Company will continue to improve over the coming quarters. Subsequent to a successful capital raise in March, the Company has a net cash position of $4.3m and no outstanding debt. This strong balance sheet allows the Company to continue to invest in new revenue streams, such as international equity trading, which is on track to launch later in 2020.

The Impact of COVID-19

The Company has seamlessly shifted to a 'working from home' environment, with no negative impact on productivity or technology uptime. The company has in place a Business Continuity Plan which we are reviewing constantly to minimise the risk posed by COVID-19 and employees are encouraged to follow government and health guidelines while working away from the office. To the extent that the COVID-19 pandemic has increased trading volumes on stock markets around the world, SelfWealth has similarly seen this impact on client trading activity.

Who is SelfWealth?

The Story

SelfWealth is the solution to a problem Founder and CEO Andrew Ward, a veteran of the wealth management industry, had been frustrated with for years: how to provide a fair and simple service to Australian investors, that grants them access to some of the world's most cutting edge investment insights, without breaking the bank.

Since those beginnings in 2012, Andrew has taken the company to float in late 2017 and introduced what is now known as Australia's fastest growing, only flat-fee share trading platform. The key offerings are the $9.50 flat-fee brokerage and a community-driven insights tool that pools information from over 80,000 Australian investor portfolios.

This inquisitive company and its leadership continue to innovate and surprise the industry with new solutions to an age-old problem: how to trade smarter.
