Related parties do not participate in the rights offer beyond their pro rata entitlement, unless they do so pursuant to bona fide underwriting arrangements and the terms of the underwriting are included in the offer documents to be sent to all shareholders.
Basis For Decision	Underlying Policy Renounceable pro rata issue - requirement for company to arrange sale entitlements of shareholders in foreign jurisdictions if no offer made - requires holder to be advised that a nominee in Australia will arrange sale and forward proceeds to holder. Present Application Company incorporated in Bermuda and has its primary listing on ASX - also listed on LSE and JSE - Renounceable entitlements issue - rights attributable to excluded shareholders will be deemed not to have been taken up and will lapse - new shares to which these rights would have attached will fall into the underwritten shortfall (together with other shares representing rights that have not been taken up) - After the closing date, the underwriter will endeavour to procure subscribers for all shares not taken up (including those attributable to excluded shareholders) at a price which is not less than the rights issue subscription price (including the expense of procuring such subscribers) - any premium to the rights issue subscription price obtained by the Underwriter will be paid to holders of lapsed rights (including excluded shareholders) pro rata (provided that no payments of less than $356;5 will be made and any amounts not paid on this basis will be aggregated and paid to the Company - excluded shareholders are treated the same as qualifying shareholders who choose not to participate in the rights issue - gives excluded shareholders the same economic rights as the procedure prescribed by listing rule 7.7 - only difference is that excluded shareholders' entitlements will be sold at the end of the offer timetable rather than during the rights trading period - no substantive disadvantage, economic or otherwise to excluded shareholders by adopting the UK approach rather than that prescribed by the listing rule 7.7 - proposed approach is at least as fair to shareholders as process prescribed by listing rule 7.7.
