RESCHEDULE OF LAUNCH OF ALUMINIUM FUTURES ON NYMEX ACCESS

Members are advised that the New York Mercantile Exchange Board of Directors have decided to reschedule the launch of Aluminium Futures, now to commence trading on Sunday evening, 16 May 1999, for trade date Monday, 17 May 1999 (New York time).

The new date will enable the aluminium market to have the opportunity to become more familiar with the specialist market maker program. Further, the new date will provide the market with additional time to arrange for deliverable metal to be in place at Exchange approved warehouses.

For further information, please contact the NYMEX Access Control Centre on 212 406 0225.
