Futures Forum

Attached please find the third edition of Futures Forum.

This publication is produced primarily for the broader corporate community - aimed specifically towards Australian and international governments, business corporations, investment managers and academics - as a means of increasing their awareness and understanding of the importance of the futures market in providing efficient risk management tools.

Futures Forum focuses not only on issues confronting both the futures industry and the broader financial market place, but also features a number of articles with topical interest to the corporate community in general.

This issue of Futures Forum looks at the following issues:

- the East Asian financial crisis - the consequences and subsequent opportunities for the Australian finance industry
- how turmoil in Asia and the explosion of electronic commerce has increased Australia's bid to become the leading financial centre in the Asia Pacific region
- the impact of the Sydney 2000 Olympic games on Australia's long-term economic outlook
- the emergence of a new market for futures trading in greenhouse gas emissions
- how the introduction of competitive reforms in the Australian electricity industry is likely to increase national revenue
- preparing for the euro shock - the introduction of the euro and the far reaching implications for the global financial system

- the powerful forces of globalisation - how fundamental changes to the futures industry are likely to increase over the following years

If you would like additional copies of Futures Forum for your own marketing activities, please contact Kate Kinnaird on (02) 9256 0171.
