ASX Release
30 October 2003

ReLODE aims to complete an airborne EM survey by late November 2003 over four of its 100%-owned tenements within the Musgrave Province of Western Australia. This survey continues to build on ReLODE’s search for nickel sulphides in this region.

ReLODE is pleased to announce that it will be undertaking an airborne EM and magnetometer survey in November 2003 over portions of four 100%-owned tenements within the Musgrave Province of Western Australia. This survey will be undertaken as an add-on to the Anglo American – ReLODE survey that is scheduled to commence on the 7th November 2003 over their Bentley Hill and associated project areas.

The target commodity over two tenements is massive nickel sulphides and over the other two tenements it is diamonds. Approximately 100 line km of data will be acquired in this add-on survey.

Drilling and other exploration activities are underway at the 100%-owned Karonie Gold Project located to the east of Kalgoorlie in the eastern goldfields of Western Australia.
