RETRACTION OF CERTAIN NON-JORC COMPLIANT STATEMENTS MADE IN THE COMPANY'S QUARTERLY ACTIVITIES REPORT

In response to a request by ASX, Asaplus Resources Limited retracts a number of non-JORC compliant statements made in the Company's Quarterly Activities Reports for the quarters:

- (a) from 1 January 2013 to 31 March 2013 lodged with the ASX on 30 April 2013 (March Quarterly); and
- (b) from 1 October 2012 to 31 December 2012 lodged with the ASX on 30 January 2013 (December Quarterly).

From the March Quarterly the Company retracts Table 1 and all references to Table 1 as these results were not reviewed by a competent person (as defined in the JORC Code).

The Company also clarifies the statement "Completed sampling and testing of seventy-nine samples extracted from the five drill holes" which is included in the "Highlights" section on page 1 of the March Quarterly. Although the results were sampled and tested by a local laboratory, they were preliminary results only and not final.

Asaplus' drill hole samples included in the March Quarterly were subject to three reviews:

1. "preliminary" - A preliminary review was completed by the 197 Geological Team of Fujian Province (who are responsible for the day to day management of Asaplus' exploration). When the March Quarterly was announced the samples had been reviewed only to this level and were considered to be preliminary. As the March Quarterly makes clear, the information was yet to be sent to a competent person.
2. "final" - On 8 May 2013, Mr Joseph Loy, the Company's Geological Manager, received final test results from the 197 Geological Team of Fujian Province.
3. "competent person" - The drill hole samples referred to in the March Quarterly were sent to Mr Peter Peebles (a competent person as defined in the JORC Code) (along with certain other information) on 9 May 2013. Mr Peebles issued and signed his report entitled "Update of Resource Estimates at the Silverstone Project" on 13 May 2013, the contents of which the Company immediately announced on the same day.

From the December Quarterly the Company retracts the final column of the table on page 4.

In the place of the information retracted by this announcement investors should rely on the "Update of Resource Estimates at the Silverstone Project" which was announced to ASX on 13 May 2013. The competent person's report prepared by Mr Peebles is attached in its entirety to the 13 May 2013 announcement and is based on information referred to in both the March Quarterly and December Quarterly.
