Navitas at UMass Lowell agreement renewed

Global education services provider Navitas Limited (ASX: NVT) is pleased to announce that the agreement with the University of Massachusetts Lowell (UMass Lowell) for its University pathway program has been renewed for the period to 30 June 2020, with the ability for both parties to agree to extend for a further five year period.

The agreement has been renewed under materially similar terms and conditions.

The relationship with UMass Lowell was established in 2010 and has provided many benefits for students, the University and Navitas.

"We are delighted to be able to extend our relationship with UMass Lowell, an institution with a reputation for academic excellence and which shares our commitment to providing the highest possible standards of teaching and student support," said Navitas Group Chief Executive Officer, Rod Jones.

"The partnership has been very successful for our students with strong academic outcomes, and we look forward to continuing to provide international students with a quality university pathway at UMass Lowell."

UMass Lowell Provost Ahmed Abdelal said UMass Lowell was delighted to renew the contract with Navitas.

"We have had a wonderful partnership that brought diverse international students from 40 countries to UMass Lowell, thus increasing our cultural diversity in accord with our strategic plan," he said.

This follows the recent renewal of the agreement with the University of Massachusetts Boston. A renewal of the agreement with the University of Massachusetts Dartmouth for the pathway college on its campus is expected to be finalised shortly.
