KNeoMedia and Mobile Embrace launch HeroWORLD edutainment platform in UK market

- Mobile Embrace to promote and distribute HeroWORLD educational games and content in the UK
- Opportunity to reach over 40 million mobile subscribers
- Follows successful launch and strategic marketing program designed for HeroWORLD product in Australia – readily transferable to UK market
- Distribution agreement will utilise Mobile Embrace’s marketing reach through billing arrangements already in place with major UK telco providers
- Both companies see potential for significant revenue opportunity in large UK market

KNeoMedia Limited (KNeoMedia or the Company) is pleased to announce that KNeoMedia’s HeroWORLD educational games and content has launched in the United Kingdom (UK) market, following its successful trial in Australia.

Having refined and developed a strategic marketing campaign for the HeroWORLD offering in Australia, which is now generating encouraging uptake in this market, Mobile Embrace intends to replicate and scale up this model in the UK.

Encouraged by this current success, both companies see the potential for a significant revenue opportunity in the UK market as it is very well aligned to the Australian market in terms of language and culture with a reach to 40 million subscribers.

As previously communicated to shareholders (KNM ASX announcement of 9 September 2015), the HeroWORLD edutainment product has been specifically designed for consumers on smartphones and tablets via Mobile Embrace’s embedded direct carrier billing platform. As part of this ongoing agreement, Mobile Embrace will now promote KNeoWORLD content and games in the UK with both companies to share transactional revenue.

Commenting on the launch of HeroWORLD in the UK, KNeoMedia’s Chief Executive Officer, James Kellett stated: “Following the success in Australia with the launch of HeroWORLD through our agreement with Mobile Embrace, this is a natural progression into a similar market, and one that can be very easily replicated and scaled up at relatively low cost.”

“We have worked closely with Mobile Embrace to ensure that we have the right product and marketing strategy for both the Australian and UK markets, and we are confident that this expansion will deliver a positive result in terms of uptake and revenue.”

Mobile Embrace Chief Executive Officer, Chris Thorpe added: ““We are pleased to have added to our product offering in the UK market with HeroWorld educational products and look forward to co-operatively building value in the territory.”
