Nufarm's strengths

- Global manufacturing, marketing and distribution platform
- Diversified business across geographies and product segments
- Established position and recognised brand in target markets and segments
- Established specialty seeds platform
- Well positioned in growing industry – driven by global population growth and decreasing available land for agriculture

| Org Design & Culture           | • Creating the right organisation structure and culture to enable our employees to thrive and to enable Nufarm’s business to continuously improve  |
Manufacturing

• Manufacturing rationalisation effectively completed

• Manufacturing Excellence programs
  - Wyke Phase 1 complete, Phase 2 to start
  - Laverton review completed
  - Linz/Gaillon sites in implementation
  - the program is being rolled out at remaining sites

• Our insecticide and fungicide manufacturing site at Laverton is close to completion

Expected savings – $40m

Expected savings – $21-26m

Investment – ($14m)
The closure of 5 plants enables $40M of the savings

- Synthesis of Phenoxies at Laverton, Linz and Wyke
- Formulation facilities in key markets close to the customer
Transforming our procurement function

• Moved to a strategic procurement model
• Strategic - understand the global requirements and negotiate for products as 'One Nufarm'
• Established a centre of excellence in China where we negotiate for products directly with producers
• Recruited sophisticated procurement skills
• Dedicated category managers to address indirect spend
• > 120 procurement projects across the business

Transforming our Supply Chain planning

From
- Every country (30+) made their own supply chain planning decisions
- Each country used its own processes for demand and supply planning
- Each country with its own inventory stockpile
- We could not promise product with any degree of certainty
- Supply Chain had low levels of capability
- Nufarm not seen as agile in the eyes of customers
- Disparate technology platforms preventing aggregation of data

To
- Regional decision making
- The same processes globally
- Optimisation of inventory within and across regions
- We will be able to promise with certainty and honour our promises
- Increased depth of supply chain planning capability
- Improved agility to respond to customer needs
- One technology platform to optimise supply planning decisions

Impact of LINK
- Reduction in net working capital
- Supply chain equipped to meet the needs of channel partners
- Common processes, structure and technology
Portfolio Solutions

Dr Niels Pörksen
Group Executive Portfolio Solutions
Our ambition

Deliver a focused and optimised portfolio of solutions which progressively strengthens Nufarm's branded position in core crops and geographies
What are we changing?

• Strategy: Focus on core crops

• Structure: Portfolio pool to become a centre led function as part of a matrix model
  - Key leadership positions in the centre and the regions
  - Dedicated portfolio resources focused on strategy, development and registration
  - Marketing execution to remain in the regions

• One Nufarm processes: A central approach to capital allocation
  - Crop strategy formulated in the regions and optimised centrally for execution
  - A global approach to strategic alliances

• Accountability: Global team accountable for the investment choices in portfolio and future portfolio health

Growth from the core – phenoxy

- One of the first selective herbicide classes developed for broadleaf weed control, phenoxy herbicides have remained a cornerstone in modern day weed management.

- Phenoxy herbicides generate approximately 20% of Nufarm’s global crop protection sales.

- The fully integrated position begins with world competitive manufacturing synthesis, a substantial body of global regulatory data, supported by well known brands and strong access to all key crops and markets.

- Phenoxy herbicides will increase in importance in our core crops and geographies as resistance management platforms build and valuable segmentation opportunities are created.

- Burndown and post harvest weed control an existing strength, and a significant growth opportunity.
Summary

• Deep understanding of growers future needs and economics in core crops and geographies

• Less projects, yet globally leveraged to deliver on depth in core crops and countries

• Strengthened core positions and globally optimised approach to portfolio gaps

• Meaningful strategic alliances leveraged globally
Customer excellence

Michelle Monteiro
Director - REACH
How are we improving the customer experience?

• Nufarm has the opportunity to differentiate against its competitors by adopting customer centric principles, and:
  • Improving our supply chain and portfolio at a global level to allow the regions to focus on our customers and provide the foundations of a great customer experience
  • Giving customers a way to tell us how we perform
  • Listening to feedback and embedding improvement into processes, products and services
  • Using metrics to measure and reward customer-centric behaviour for all employees
Who is our customer?

- Both Channel partners and farmers or end users are Nufarm's customers
- Understanding our channel partners and our customers will enable us to design products and services that meet their needs and keep our revenue as well as help grow it.
- Design our portfolio solutions through the eyes of the end user
Customer experience

Our immediate priority will be our channel partners and how we deliver a great experience to them in each of our core markets.

Nufarm is implementing NPS with our channel partners

What is NPS?

- NPS or Net Promoter Score is a global brand benchmarking model of customer advocacy
- It will be embedded into the customer service operations of Nufarm
- Enables continuous feedback from customers to improve our service strategy and delivery
- Used to measure our Progress
