Located at 1378 West Pender Street in Vancouver's Coal Harbour neighbourhood, the Design Studio is a 3,000 square-foot, multi-functional space that acts as a community hub, shared workspace, gallery, event venue, and home for Kabuni's advanced technology design tools.

Designers are able to work alongside other professionals in a co-office setting and can invite their clients to the space to work through inspirations and ideas using Kabuni's groundbreaking technology. Local artists and artisans will showcase their work throughout the space on a rotating basis while Kabuni's series of lectures, seminars, and other events will drive visitation and develop the local design community.

The Dream Room is 480-square-foot holographic space that allows clients to work alongside a designer and visualize their complete design solution, using a touchscreen to envision a unique selection of furnishings within a recreation of their own home or workspace.
