CLEARVIEW ANNOUNCES COOPERATION AGREEMENT WITH SONY LIFE

ClearView Wealth Limited (ASX: CVW, ClearView or the Company) and Sony Life Insurance Co., Ltd. (Sony Life) have entered into a mutually-beneficial Cooperation Agreement to share information and increase their co-ordination to drive efficiency and growth across both organisations.

This agreement follows the recent addition of Sony Life to the ClearView register as a strategic shareholder having acquired a 14.9% interest in the Company.

Under the Cooperation Agreement, ClearView and Sony Life will leverage each other's knowledge and skills to continue developing both businesses.

ClearView and Sony Life will look to expand ClearView's footprint in the independent financial adviser (IFA) market; enhance the quality of strategic advice provided by ClearView's aligned adviser network; and increase the recruitment and productivity of skilled aligned advisers.

The Cooperation Agreement is effective from 13 January 2017 for so long as Sony Life holds at least 10 per cent of the issued share capital in ClearView.

ClearView Managing Director Simon Swanson said the Cooperation Agreement demonstrated Sony Life's commitment to working together in good faith.

"This collaboration will see ClearView benefit from Sony Life's substantial expertise in product development, distribution and marketing. Both parties have also agreed to share information in relation to best practice in financial advice, technology, internal operations and financial reporting practices," he said.
