APPOINTMENT OF MANAGING DIRECTOR AND FINANCE DIRECTOR

ASX Code: HEG, HEGOC

22 January 2018

Hill End appoints Managing Director and Finance Director to lead development of Yendon high purity alumina project in Victoria

Hill End Gold Ltd is pleased to announce the appointment of highly experienced resources executive Martin McFarlane as Managing Director.

Mr McFarlane, who has been a Non-executive Director of Hill End since November 1, 2017, will lead the feasibility and development studies on the Company's Yendon high purity alumina project in Victoria.

Mr McFarlane is a chemical engineer who has held numerous senior executive positions spanning exploration and plant operation to concentrate marketing and corporate management. He has worked for both large and small companies and has significant experience in the industrial minerals markets.

Hill End has also appointed Non-executive Director David Leavy as Executive Director, Finance and Commercial.

Mr Leavy has had an extensive career in finance, marketing and corporate management. After 18 years with Westpac, where he worked in currency and commodity derivatives and project finance, he has been employed as Chief Financial Officer for a number of mining companies. Mr Leavy has played key roles in project development, corporate infrastructure, offtake agreements and financing structures.

Hill End Chairman Graham Reveleigh said the appointments of Mr McFarlane and Mr Leavy marked an important step in the Company's strategy to progress Yendon.

"Martin and David have the skills and experience needed to unlock the value of this highly promising project, which we believe is ideally placed to capitalise on growing global demand for high purity alumina," Mr Reveleigh said.

"With the appointments completed, we will advance the range of technical and commercial studies which will underpin our development strategy for Yendon."
