Commentary

Mukabe-Kasari Cobalt-Copper Project

On 6 September 2017 the Company announced its intention to proceed with the earn-in to acquire up to 90% of the Mokabe-Kasari Cobalt Copper project located in the world famous DRC Copper belt. The first commercial term was satisfied by the issue of 10 million shares in RMX as part consideration for the earn in on 8 September 2017.

The Company completed the exploration programme at the Mukabe-Kasari-Cobalt-Copper project in the Katanga Province of the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC). This included soil and rock chip sampling, RAB drilling and pitting.

A surface geochemical program centred around the areas of known copper mineralisation was completed and a total of 657 samples were collected.

Areas targeted for copper mineralisation were covered with a systematic surface geochemical sampling (either soil and rock chip sample, depending on sample site), and followed-up by a pitting program to establish the vertical extent of mineralised horizons, if possible the number of mineralized beds, and the thickness of individual beds.

The area identified as hosting cobalt mineralisation in old rived-bed sediments was targeted with a rotary air blast (RAB) drilling programme comprising approximately 50 holes for about 850m of drilling centred on 200m by 500m spaced drill centres.

Soil samples were collected between 30 and 70 cm below the organic rich top soil layer. About 2 kg of bulk material was collected from each sample site. About the same volume of weathered rock was collected where bed rock was at surface.

Furthermore, an RAB geochemical drill sampling program of 50 drill holes totalling about 850 m was completed at the cobalt-only mineralisation area. The objective of this work was to determine the distribution, grade, and host rock properties of this target area. The holes were drilled on a 500 m by 200 m grid to a depth of 10–25 m. Every metre drilled was sampled.

The drill traverses confirmed that an east-southeast-trending, up to 12 m deep and up to 1.5 km wide palaeo-channel transects the southern project area. The pebble beds which mostly consisted of partly weathered siltstones appeared to be coated in a black oxide mineral the composition of which is not known.

These observations give support to the concept that cobalt mineralisation may be associated with the “black coating” and that it is associated with a poorly consolidated river sediments.

Corporate

On 6 September 2017, the Company completed a share placement to raise $735,000 from professional and sophisticated investors, through the issue of 66,818,182 shares at an issue price of $0.011, as approved by shareholders on 15 November 2016.
