Commenting on the hearing healthcare retail expansion Nuheara CEO, Justin Miller said, "We are delighted to welcome Hidden Hearing into the Nuheara fold. Nuheara is committed to ensuring IQbuds BOOST™ is only available in channels that provide a consultative sales process and take the customer on a journey with our product. Hidden Hearing prides itself on the customer with significant effort and care placed on both pre and post-sales support."

"Strategically, Hidden Hearing is the first hearing healthcare chain to embed our IQbuds BOOST™ product on a country wide basis. They have wholeheartedly embraced the deployment of IQbuds BOOST™ to the majority of their hearing clinics, demonstrating the significant impact our product is having in the mild to moderate hearing loss market.

"In a first, this partnership will also allow Nuheara to conduct nationwide co-marketing, with the knowledge that anyone will be able to find IQbuds BOOST™ in any Hidden Hearing clinic. This is a significant marketing development in our global retail strategy.'
