Facilitation & Success Fees

FGF earns fees on the Digital Assets held by its portfolio companies

FGF is entitled to the following facilitation fees and success fees.

- Relatively low hurdle to receive facilitation fees
- Facilitation fee amounts are more than FGF's investment amount
- Success Fee captures growth and adoption of Digital Assets

For personal use only

Large Equity Position

In addition to facilitation and success fees, FGF secures large allocations of total token supply:

Large token holding allows FGF to:

- Recover its investment faster once liquidity is achieved
- Significant income if the token achieves mass adoption with liquidity

Secure large equity position in private equity deals:

Large equity holding allows FGF to take a greater role in managing the investment and help facilitate future capital raisings, M&A Activity and IPO.

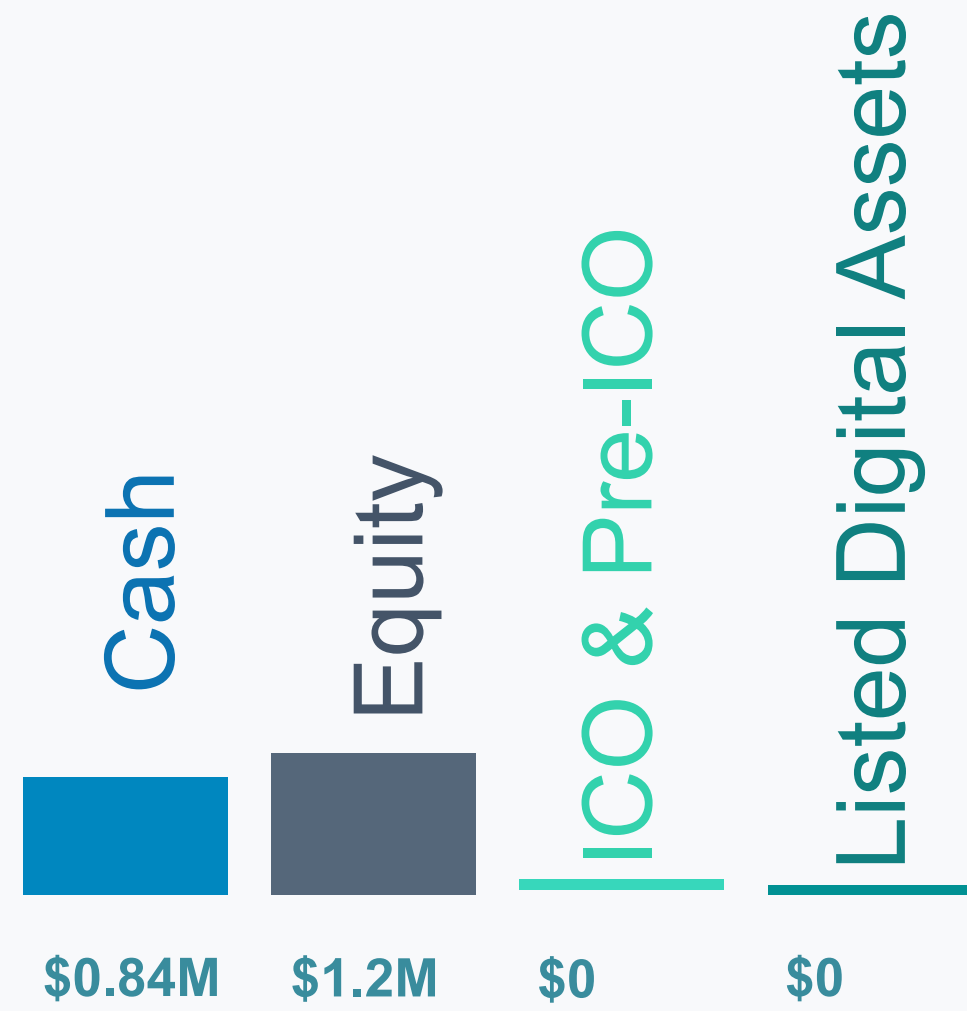

* FGF also has a 50% interest in CryptoData Vault that owns 30% of the tokens.

Investors should be aware that blockchain technology is backed only by mathematics, technology and trust and is absolutely decentralised. This means there is no authority that can take corrective measures to protect cryptocurrency value in a crisis or issue more currency. Investments in cryptocurrency are considered high risk and speculative in nature. Although the FGF has considered these risk as part of its investment portfolio, digital currency remains highly volatile.

Furthermore, while the underlying blockchain technology of these assets is considered immutable, the exchanges upon which they trade generally are not.
