- Bigtincan has won its largest contract expansion ever adding $7.2m of recurring revenue to its existing agreement with T-Mobile taking the total contract value since August 2017 to $11.5m
- Expands T-Mobile's use case beyond retail stores to B2B sales and other groups across the business utilising Bigtincan's capabilities as a platform including SDK and APIs

Bigtincan Holdings Limited (ASX: BTH) ("Bigtincan") is pleased to announce it has reached agreement with existing US based customer T-Mobile to expand its contract with the addition of $7,221,389 of recurring revenue over three years (US$5,127,186.00), its largest contract win to date, for a total contract value (TCV) of over $11.5m.

Bigtincan's initial contract with T-Mobile was won by competitive tender in August 2017 and involved a deployment at scale of the Bigtincan Hub application to 5,500 retail stores on up to 23,000 mobile devices.

This contract expansion follows the successful initial deployment and broadens Bigtincan's use case within T-Mobile beyond retail to include B2B sales and other groups and extended use of the Bigtincan Hub Platform as a core platform for its business, utilising Bigtincan's SDKs and APIs, in addition to the comprehensive set of features already provided within Bigtincan Hub.

David Keane, Bigtincan's CEO said "This contract expansion validates our intense focus on meeting the needs of our large corporate and enterprise customers. We are delighted to be building upon our commitment to T-Mobile, delivering an expanded range of functionality and working closely with T-Mobile to deliver world class enterprise software to even more of their customer-facing team members. This also presents a range of new opportunities for Bigtincan".
