e-Mersion Media partners with Concierge Grand Prix Magazine for additional F1 races in 2020

Following the recent successful launch on both the Apple App Store and Google Play Store of the Concierge Monaco 2019 Grand Prix digital enhanced magazine app, e-Mersion Media and SEO International (Sporting Events Organization), have entered into an agreement to roll out the Concierge Grand Prix Magazine app across further Formula One races in 2020.

Concierge is the leading authority on Formula One destinations. The Concierge Magazine app is a ground-breaking new digital enhanced magazine created using e-Mersion Media's pioneering technology. It offers readers a richer, more immersive way to view the magazine and extends the value of the popular print magazine to bring to life destination guides for F1 fans through a new fully interactive and enhanced magazine.

Last month's Concierge Magazine celebrated 90 years of the Monaco Grand Prix. To kick-off the celebrations Sir Patrick Head revealed his unique insights into three key Formula One figures: Alain Prost, Jody Scheckter and Martin Brundle, discussing their success on and off the track.

Quote: Monica Head, SEO International and Concierge Founder & CEO

“Last year’s Concierge destination guide to Monaco was so well received, I thought that it might be a challenge to keep it fresh for 2019, but happily not so. With renovated hotels, new restaurants, shops and places to party – there is always something different and exciting in Monaco. Like Monaco, I hope to surprise and offer innovation. This year our readers were invited to download the magazine app on our exciting new platform. It allowed our readers to immerse themselves in our rich, fully interactive content, while also being able to book their favourite restaurants and hotels directly”.

Quote: Vincenzo Viola, CEO, e-Mersion Media

“e-Mersion Media is pleased to enter the next phase of commercialisation of our digital enhanced magazine app with such an important and profile partner in Concierge / SEO. Their powerful and popular Formula One destination guide for this year’s Monaco 2019 Grand Prix gave e-Mersion the perfect platform to test and launch a pilot digital magazine. I can report we have successfully completed this important milestone in our app development, with real proof of concept, rigorous stress and volume testing, valuable learnings from UX testing and the capture of important data. We are excited to now have our first commercial app up on both iOS and Android platforms, with 58% of users on iOS and 42% on Android. What’s really exciting is to learn that 81% of our audience clicked “play” on one of the many videos within the issue and that during the Monaco Grand Prix, our retention rate was 40.9% (people accessing the app more than once over the course of the race weekend).”
