Sydney, Australia, December 18, 2019: By way of update in advance of a webinar to be held on 18 December 2019 by higher education software as a service (SaaS) company OpenLearning Limited ('OpenLearning' or 'the Company'), the Company is pleased to announce that it has signed 13 new education providers to its innovative SaaS education platform since 1st December 2019 taking the total number of SaaS paying clients to 73, an increase of 21.6%.

The new education providers are comprised of universities, colleges and training providers which will use OpenLearning's platform to deliver blended learning, micro-credentials and online professional development. The new contracts are anticipated to commence generating revenue, the amount of which depends on usage and with a minimum annualised recurring revenue (ARR) of A$80k in aggregate, between December 2019 and February 2020.

The new contracts add to OpenLearning's strong base of 60 B2B existing SaaS clients, including blue-chip education and government clients such as UNSW Sydney, University of Melbourne, University of Technology Sydney, Western Sydney University, Charles Sturt University, University of Newcastle and the Central Bank of Malaysia.

OpenLearning has a strong and advanced pipeline of potential clients in Australia and Malaysia, its initial target markets. OpenLearning is utilised by education providers globally, however, the Company has initially focused on these two countries by providing localised customer support, learning services, pricing and marketing.

As at 30 November 2019, the Company has had over 2.5 million enrolments from 1.72 million registered learners across 7,900 courses provided by 60 education providers, making it one of the world's largest online education platforms.

OpenLearning CEO Adam Brimo said: "We are very pleased to welcome these education provider to OpenLearning, enabling them to deliver higher quality online courses and attract students worldwide.

Our sales pipeline is stronger than it has ever been in Australia and Malaysia and we are continuing to attract a large number of blue-chip education providers in both markets. With the capital raised in our recent listing, our strategic growth plan is now fully funded and we're focused on execution in both our target markets and further abroad.

I am looking forward to discussing this and more with investors during today's webinar at 11am AEDT."
