ABOUT MOTIO

WE'RE ALL ABOUT OUT OF HOME

Next generation outdoor

We're brand new, and ready to work differently than traditional outdoor companies.

Customer centric data

Our networks are already rich in single source, first party customer data giving brands the confidence to invest with directly sourced information.

Connected

Whilst we prefer humans, our networks can be traded programmatically to deliver accurate and efficient campaigns.

DATA LED NETWORKS

What is a data led network

Data led networks utilise first party, anonymised customer data to target specific audience segments. These audience segments allow brands to place advertising at the right time and location to target specific persona groups.

How do we use the data?

Utilising specific spend data of high use audience segments, Motio is able to create scenarios based on:

- Age and Gender
- Typical time of day
- Location and area demography

Why is it important?

Motio is about Changing the way Out-Of-Home is considered. This continued innovation in our industry is important to maximise effectiveness and efficacy for brands.
