Alliance Aviation Services Limited ("Alliance") is proud to announce it has entered into a new airline services contract with South32, as agent for each of Cannington and GEMCO, for a ten-year term. Alliance will be the sole supplier for these services. This extension was won through a competitive tender process and is testament to Alliance's safety record, on time performance and competitiveness in the market place.

Alliance has been providing air charter services to the Cannington and GEMCO mine sites since 2006.

Lee Schofield, Alliance's Chief Executive Officer, said, "Alliance is delighted to be continuing the provision of these services for both Cannington and GEMCO mine sites from Townsville, Cairns and Brisbane. This new contract will see Alliance flying a minimum of 35 sectors per week."

"For the next ten years Alliance will also be servicing South32's charter requirements from Darwin. This will result in a significant increase in our permanent presence in the Northern Territory, which in turn should provide significant new opportunities for Alliance particularly in tourism."
