Business Performance

Managing Director & CEO Simon Morrison, said 'We are very pleased with our strong market position and solid earnings growth in FY21. Revenue increased, largely due to growth in our new practice areas, including class actions, abuse law, medical law and superannuation and disability. The challenges posed for business and the entire community by the COVID-19 pandemic in FY21 were met by the team at Shine Justice with unwavering commitment to our business and our clients. The financial performance and outstanding results for our clients demonstrate the Group's adaptability, innovation and organisational discipline to execute across our business. Our leadership team continued to strengthen, leading our capable and talented team members. We implemented a range of initiatives to maintain communication, workflow continuity and importantly to ensure our team remained motivated and in good health.

We implemented a body of work to improve consistency of client experience. The impact of COVID-19 accelerated the implementation of digital marketing and user facing client technology. As a result, the Group has made good progress and remains on track to achieve its long-term strategy to expand its technological capabilities and continue to grow'.

Milestone Achievements

In addition to two new class actions relating to defective mesh implants, class actions have been filed on behalf of:

- the Wreck Bay Aboriginal Community whose culturally significant land has been contaminated by toxic PFAS chemicals;
- passengers and families affected by the deadly outbreak of coronavirus on board the Ruby Princess cruise ship;
- Indigenous workers who were forced to work in slave-like conditions for minimal or no pay in Western Australia and the Northern Territory;
- Stolen Generation survivors in the Northern Territory;
- workers subject to sham contracting arrangements; and
- insurance customers who received unethical financial advice.

We settled a class action against Westpac Banking Corporation and Westpac Life Insurance Services Limited in relation to financial advice about, and the sale of, allegedly overpriced life insurance products.

We settled our first Super Online claim, after extending our online model to include our Disability and Superannuation practice, and we are expanding our online booking tool.

We extended our abuse practice, which has experienced significant growth, into South Australia where we are fighting for justice for survivors abused in detention.

Board Renewal

In July 2020, the Company was delighted to welcome Graham Bradley AM as its new Chairman, following the appointments of Teresa Dyson and David Bayes in February 2020. In December 2020, the Board renewal process was completed with the appointment of Rod Douglas, an experienced company director with a specialisation in culture, strategy and organisational value. We are expecting increasing EBITDA growth in FY22, in the order of a low double digit percentage, subject to any material or unforeseen future impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic.'
