CHAIR'S ADDRESS 2022 ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

Aspermont has now been creating business to business content since the turn of the century, and its total market share has grown exponentially since its flagship title Mining Journal launched nearly two centuries ago.

We now have a true global reach with offices in the United Kingdom, Singapore, across Australasia and two in the Americas.

I would like to take this chance to thank our shareholders for their stalwart continued belief and support and to say hello to many of our new investors across Asia and Europe who have joined our register via our new listings on the European exchanges.

Our company's journey through the eye of the needle is complete and as I stand on the Bridge of Aspermont I can conclusively say we have never been more productive.

The consequence of this means daily share traffic within our Australian Securities Exchange listing is moving from non-existent to pedestrian. This stands in contrast to our company's well read and better reported global market equity traffic.

Our quarterly reporting will make it clear there is strong cash flow and our newly earned money's margins are high for our industry and well within our operating parameters.

Currently we are developing new technology and engagement methods which we can load into our ever-expanding intellectual property portfolio.

Your Company's needs are being well managed, and we are expanding.

Andrew Kent
Chair
