Consultation Paper on ASX Settlement Operating Rule amendments - Depositary Nominee Services

On 15 April 2025, ASX released its Consultation Paper – ASX Settlement Operating Rule amendments - Depositary Nominee services in relation to proposed amendments to the ASX Settlement Operating Rules and Procedures which are intended to update the legal framework within which Depositary Nominee services are provided in respect of CHESS Depositary Interests (CDIs).

ASX proposes to expand CHESS Depositary Nominees Pty Limited's (CDN) services as a Depositary Nominee under the ASX Settlement Operating Rules to issuers in all licensed markets who request the service.

The purpose of this consultation is to obtain feedback on the proposed amendments to the ASX Settlement Operating Rules and Procedures which will apply to both existing CDIs on issue and new CDIs.

Written submissions in response to the Consultation Paper are requested by Friday 16 May 2025.

The consultation process is being led by ASX Issuer Services, so please direct any queries to issuers@asx.com.au rather than your Listings Adviser.

Listed entities are reminded that they must have a nominated person responsible for communication with ASX in relation to Listing Rule matters (Listing Rule 12.6).

Entities should keep the contact details of their nominated ASX contacts up to date on ASX Online at all times and also inform their Listings Adviser of any changes. Further information about how to notify ASX of any changes (including temporary changes) made to the entity's nominated ASX contact is available here (see Item 3).
