CHESS Release 2 - Drop 4 User Technical Documentation now available

ASX is pleased to announce that the CHESS Release 2 User Technical Documentation (UTD) is now available for Drop 4 of the CHESS Project.

The CHESS Release 2 Drop 4 UTD provides updated technical specifications and supporting information to assist stakeholders in understanding and preparing for CHESS Release 2 Drop 4. The documentation includes new Drop 4 functionality and refinements based on the latest solution design, supporting stakeholders in their development, testing, and implementation activities.

In addition to the Drop 4 UTD, the ASX Stakeholder Engagement page includes a number of enhancements to the documentation suite, including links to key supporting Business Design and ISO 20022 Design materials published through the respective working groups.

Please note that some documents may be protected using ASX Online authentication. To access these materials, you will need to log in using your ASX Online credentials. If you do not already have an ASX Online account, please contact your organisation's Enterprise Administrator. If your organisation does not have an Enterprise Administrator, please contact the ASX Customer Technical Support Team for assistance.

Should you have any questions, feedback, or additional considerations, please contact the CHESS Stakeholder Engagement Team or speak directly with your Stakeholder Engagement representative.

Kind regards,
The CHES Project Team
