ASX Australian Liquidity Centre - Change to Lease Arrangements

Today, revised lease arrangements for ASX's new primary data centre in Sydney, the Australian Liquidity Centre, become effective. This means that the minimum lease commitments disclosed in note 22 of the 2011 Financial Statements will reduce over the initial non-cancellable term of 12 years from $62.4 million to $33.9 million.

Under the revised lease arrangements, ASX will occupy level 1 of the data centre and will give up the right to lease certain additional space in the building.

The ASX Australian Liquidity Centre – scheduled for opening in February 2012 – will house ASX's core trade execution and post trade platforms along with other financial market participant and service provider technology.
