

ASX Small to Mid Caps

GR Engineering Limited
(ASX: GNG)

Presentation by:

Joe Ricciardo
Managing Director

Joe Ricciardo is a mechanical engineer and founding member of GR Engineering Services Limited. His background in providing engineering design and construction services to the mineral processing industry dates back to 1986 when he co-founded JR Engineering Services which he grew into an organisation of over 300 people before it was sold to a publically listed Australian company in 2001. Joe continued to work for the organisation until early 2006.

During his brief retirement Joe observed that many of JR Engineering's former competitors had moved towards servicing larger clients and international projects leaving behind a void in providers of fixed price engineering design and construction services to junior and mid-tier mineral producers.

He seized upon this opportunity by bringing together a team of highly experienced engineers and managers, many being former employees of JR Engineering Services and in September they founded GR Engineering Services.

Since then the Company has grown consistently in terms of both revenue and profitability.
